The report contains a general account of the surface features, the geological structure, the soil and timber, and all the material resources of the county. It gives a full account of the mills and water-powers of the county. The most interesting portion of the report is that relating to the Falls of St. Anthony, by the recession of which, aided by a full and minute description of the drift deposits, he deduces a rate of recession and a date for the last glacial epoch. He quotes from Hennepin, Carver and others, to show the position of the falls at the time they visited them, and finally finds they have receded from Fort Snelling, five miles distant, during the last 8,859 years, that being also the date of the last glacial epoch when in its full force. Superior to any English or American. A DIPLO-MA was awarded to this Magnesia, by the American Institute in 1852.

This very useful and elegant preparation is used as an aperient antic-acid in dyspepsia complaints attended with acidity with very great benefit. It has the advantage over common Magnesia, in being dissolved, and therefore not being liable to accumulate in the bowels. It is decidedly superior to Carbonate of Soda or Potash, on account of its aperient quality.

This solution of Magnesia is found particularly beneficial as a pleasing sedative and aperient, in a cases of irritation, or acidity of the stomach, febtile complaints, infantile disorders, or sea-sickness.

An ounce or two of this solution speedily removes hearthur, agrid excelsions and sourcess, or irrecarthurn, acrid eructations and sourness, or irregular digestion.

The solution is of itself an aperient, but its laxa tive properties can be much augmented by taking with it, or directly after it, a little lemon juice, mixed with sugar and water, or even with cream of tartar; in this manner a very agreeable effer escent draught, can be safely taken at any time during The antisceptic qualities of this solution, owing to the presence of so much carbonic acid, have been found very valuable in putrid and other fever. As a lotion for the mosth, it sweetens the breath, and the Magnesia cleans the teeth from tartar. The solution has almost invariably succeeded in removing fits, spasms and headaches to which deli-cate persons are subject from acids and crudities of the stomach and bowels.

The attention of the public is particularly directed to the following certificates of physicians and other persons who have used the Magnesia:

Made at the oldest Anvil manufactory in this country. All English Anvils, after a time, become hollowing on the face by continued hammering in use, on account of the fibrous nature of the wrought iron—causing it to "settle," under the steel.

But the body of the Kagle Anvil being of crys tallized iron, such settling cannot occur; and the steel face therefore remains perfectly true. Also, it has the great advantage, that being of a more outh material, and, consequently, with less re-bound, the piece forged receives the FULL effect of the hammer, instead of a part of it being wasted by the rebound, as with a wrought iron Anvil.

More work can therefore be done on this Anvil with a hammer one-fifth lighter than required for a wrought iron Anvil which is more elastic The working surface is in one piece of JESSOP'S BEST TOOL CAST STEEL, accurately ground, bard work. The horn is of tough untempered steel.
